NUMBER 9

SEPTEMBER 2014

A city slicker moved to the country to start farming. He went to the local co-op and bought 50 baby chickens. A week later, he returned and bought 50 more. Another week passed, and the man returned again to the co-op. This time he asked the guy in charge for 100 baby chickens. "Wow!" the co-op man replied. "You must really be doing well." "Naw," said the man with a sigh, "I'm either planting them too deep or too far apart!"

A famous scientist developed a formula to bring statues to life. He went to a local park to try it out on a statue of General Ulysses Grant. After application, General Grant began to move and soon was completely alive. The scientist asked, "What's the first thing you'll do, General?" The general drew his pistol and replied, "I'm going to kill about a million pigeons!"

"Do you have any kittens going cheap?" the pet shop customer asked. "No, sir," replied the owner. "All our kittens go 'Meow.'"

A young couple came into the church office to fill out a pre-marriage questionnaire form. The young man, who had never talked to a pastor before, was quite nervous, and the pastor tried to put him at ease. When they came to the question, "Are you entering this marriage of your own free will?" there was a long pause. Finally, the girl looked over at the apprehensive young man and said, "Put down yes!"

Can't believe I forgot to go to the gym today. That's seven years in a row now.

As a maintenance engineer in an upscale hotel, I was asked to repair or replace the television in a guest room. When I arrived, the couple was watching a picture one-third the size of the screen. I knew all our spare sets were in use, so I figured what the heck and struck the side of the TV with the heel of my hand. The picture returned to full size. "Look, honey," said the wife to her husband. "He went to the same repair school as you."

A chemistry teacher asked her students, "What's the most important thing you learned in lab this year?" One student promptly raised his hand and said, "Never lick the spoon!"

Yesterday, my boss told me, "Don't dress for the job you have. Dress for the job you want." Today, when I turned up at the office dressed like a Ghostbuster, I got fired.

During training exercises, the lieutenant driving down a muddy back road encountered another car that was stuck in the mud. A red-faced colonel sat at the wheel. "Your jeep stuck, sir?" asked the lieutenant, as he pulled alongside. "Nope," replied the colonel, coming over and handing him the keys. "Yours is."

A police officer knocked at my door earlier today. "Mr. Cook?" "Yes," I replied. "I'm afraid your dog has just been reported for chasing someone on a bike." "That's not possible," I said. "My dog doesn't have a bike!"

One night at the dinner table, the wife commented, "When we were first married, you took the small piece of steak and gave me the larger. Now, you take the larger one and leave me the smaller. You don't love me anymore." "Nonsense, darling," replied the husband, "you just cook better now."

A truck driver was driving along on the freeway, when he saw a sign that read, "Low Bridge Ahead." Before he knew it, the bridge was right ahead of him, and he got stuck underneath. Cars were backed up for miles. Finally, a police car arrived. The cop got out, walked around to the truck driver, put his hands on his hips, and said, "Got stuck, huh?" The driver replied, "No, I was delivering this bridge and ran out of gas."

A man who was terribly overweight went to see his doctor, who immediately put him on a diet. "I want you to eat regularly for two days, then skip a day, and repeat this procedure for two weeks," the doctor ordered. "The next time I see you, you'll have lost at least five pounds." When the man returned two weeks later, he'd lost nearly 20 pounds. "Why, that's amazing!" the doctor said. "Did you follow my instructions?" The man nodded, "I'll tell you, though, I thought I was going to drop dead that third day." "From hunger, you mean?" the doctor asked. "No, from skipping."

"How long have you been working here?" one employee asked another. "Ever since the boss threatened to fire me."
